ONLY A SONG.

Love says not much, but says it, oh, so well
We cannot tell
What is the meaning of its secret spell.
Its charm divine
Is like the murmur of a sounding shell
Heard in the pauses of the occan's swell,
In beauty's oft recurring parallel.
Its feeling line,
Artless of rule, yet more than rules of art
Unconscious pierces; probes, with inward smart,
Its music fine
Is such that if the singer break his song
And stop the very spheres seem all a wrong;
We hid him take his lute and sweet and strong
Renew his strain.
Oh, singer, sing once more the old refrain

Ob, singer, sing once more the old refrain
And echo faint its burden still prolong
In memory's chain!
And lest it perish, being only song,
Sing it again,
Again, again! —Spectat
